Padlocks are portable locks used to protect against use of equipment, theft, vandalism or unauthorized entry.

Padlocks are available in many shapes and sizes to suit an almost endless array of applications from a travel suitcase through to train wagons and trucks.

Choosing the correct padlock for the application is very important. Using a heavy duty, high security lock combined with a light or flimsy latch, chain or fitting is pointless.

- Extra-strong padlock for applications where high security is required.

- The ABLOY® PROTEC cylinder not only meets but exceeds international standards for high security including UL 437 and EN 1303.
- No springs, pins or other parts to wear out.
